

GERMAN-AMERICAN BUSINESS COUNCIL OF BOSTON, INC.
Dedicated to encouraging and cultivating German-American business and trade.

The GABC of Boston invites you to a Business Luncheon on
“A Ripe Time for Alternative Energy”

At the Union Club Boston
8 Park Street, Boston, MA 02108

November 15th 2007
12:00 – 2:00 PM

Climate change, global warming, and green business are topical issues addressed in the media and of growing concern to everyone. Europe in particular has made great strides in supporting socially responsible and eco friendly companies. The interest in Green Companies has been growing steadily in the US as well, and we invite you join us for this informative luncheon event.

The featured guest speakers are:

Anthony Eames, Senior Vice President, Calvert Distributors, Inc., has worked in financial services more than 9 years. He graduated from Wittenberg University, B.A. and is an accredited Asset Management Specialist. He is married, the father of two children and volunteers with Habitat for Humanity.

Warren Leon, Director, Renewable Energy Trust, has worked on energy and environmental issues for more than 15 years. Before joining the Renewable Energy Trust, Warren was Executive Director of the Northeast Sustainable Energy Association. Before that, he was Deputy Director for Programs at the Union of Concerned Scientists. He received his undergraduate degree from Oberlin College in 1972 and a Ph.D. from Harvard University in 1979.
